

BIRTH DATES

Born on the 1st

You strive to stand out from the crowd. A natural leader, you have a strong will and need a goal to work toward. You may run your own business. You do not take “no” for an answer, but have to push yourself to follow through (you tend to procrastinate). You like to plan rather than implement and are talented in diagnosing and troubleshooting. You are one of the most idealistic people, but consider yourself pragmatic rather than emotional. You may not be demonstrative emotionally, but you love very deeply and are sometimes romantic. You value loyalty very highly, and have strong standards for doing things correctly.

Born on the 2nd

Partnership and close friends tend to be very important to your sense of well-being. Easily affected by other people’s moods or environmental conditions, you should strive to find work with people with whom you are compatible. In a conflict, you tend to be the peacemaker at all costs, and may not reveal your true feelings. You may work long hours to please your boss or fill in for a colleague’s irresponsibility-only to find that people have taken your efforts for granted. Typically quite content being in the background, you secretly love attention for your good deeds. You are often the one who remembers other people’s birthdays. You tend to replay conversations, looking for things you might have said or wondering if someone had an ulterior motive. With a system that may be high-strung, getting plenty of sleep keeps you feeling optimistic. You need to be around beauty and harmony.. You are patient, rather than assertively competitive. Avoid comparing yourself to more outgoing people.

Born on the 3rd

You are charming, quick to see the humour in any situation, but can be somewhat unreliable. You may spread yourself thin over several projects because you like to keep busy. You are energetic, but easily distracted. Having many friends, you may need to budget a sizable amount for gifts because you are also generous. You love spontaneous get-togethers. You naturally embellish stories and events. You are known for youthfulness, a certain intensity in style, and while friends may laugh about your “scatteredness,” you are loved by them. You adore an audience. Creative hobbies are a necessity for you.

Born on the 4th

You succeed through business, management, production, and anything connected to building, the body, and the earth. You learn things the hard way and have confidence that you can learn anything if shown the principles. Focused on fixing a problem, you may have trouble seeing the “big picture.” You can be very cautious and careful in your approach to work and life in general. You must make an effort to keep up-to-date. With fundamental, no-frills thinking, you have strong ideas about the right way to do things. You may work at several jobs in your life before working your way up to a position where your experience is respected.

Born on the 5th

You are restless to see the world. You may want to marry late so that you can explore first. Adventurous, you need work that is challenging, risky, and different. You would be an excellent promoter, being something of a ham yourself. You are known as a good storyteller and jokester. You tend to use things up quickly and seek new stimulation. You are always on the alert, curious, and questioning and love to rock the boat. You will have a variety of jobs and will leave home early to seek your fortune, which, you are convinced, is just around the corner.

Born on the 6th

Because you were born on the 6th, you have a very loving, but territorial nature. You are a natural teacher and your ideas on how to parent are strong. Your home is of the utmost importance to you; you take responsibility very seriously. You love luxury and crave romantic attention. You may have unnecessary worries about “going broke,” something which seldom happens to Sixes since you are able to find financial backing for your business ideas. Your social position and contacts are important to you. You know the value of reciprocity. Family and friends always come first.

Born on the 7th

You will succeed if you learn to concentrate on one thing at a time. Your intuition will lead you to the right opportunities and then you may have to get specialized training in the field you have chosen. You may have fine technical abilities, and your work may involve a great deal of research. Tuned into natural cycles, you may also be a farmer or rancher, immersed in the land. Always follow your hunches rather than someone else's advice. You have strong opinions, and it's hard for you to compromise unless you see a better way, so be aware that relationships may suffer from your intractability. Opportunities come to you through patient waiting, but that is often very frustrating to you, and can make you pessimistic or cynical. Never gamble. Your attitude of caution in regard to money is correct. You may play an esoteric instrument or have unusual hobbies and friends. You have an affinity for the country and animals, and meditation and solitude are absolute necessities for you. You may be prone to be quiet and have a few special friends rather than many.

Born on the 8th

You are highly motivated to do well at everything you undertake. You will not stay long in a subordinate role, but will rise to the level of supervisor, manager, foreman, head of department, or professional very quickly—usually through your own hard work unaided by “lucky breaks.” Women who are born on the 8th are great household managers and working mothers. Men and women both find success in any large structured organization, such as a factory, law firm, the criminal justice system, the military, financial institutions, hospitals, or government work. In business, you should be your own boss. You have a way with money and will do very well in life. When success evades you, you have a tendency to blame others and perhaps become a little bitter. Generally, you are serious and mature in outlook, and disciplined and competent in everything you do. You may have trouble sharing your emotional side with a love partner. If you are a woman, men may see you as very independent and dominant. Eights like a partner who is independent, but who also respects their opinion and goes along with their ideas!

Born on the 9th

You can succeed in any artistic, healing, teaching, philanthropic, or musical line of work. You are idealistic and emotional. Life is serious for you and you feel such a need to be of service to the world that you have trouble making up your mind about which career to follow. You are very capable, but have some trouble concentrating on everyday details. You become absorbed in whatever interests you—and you have many interests. You may have a metaphysical outlook toward world problems. You will find yourself involved with much group work throughout your middle years. You may travel extensively and your life will always be full of surprises. You are drawn to transformational work

Born on the 10th

You have a great deal of vitality and recover easily from any setback. You are creative, have many interests, and tend to think more about the future than the past or present. You may have little help from others because you like being independent and don't like waiting for others. Perhaps unconsciously you want people to think of you as indispensable. You would do well in anything where courage, inventive design, and entrepreneurialism are needed.

Born on the 11th

Your birth date of the 11th is called the Master Number of Inspiration. Eleven (1+1) also adds up to 2. All Twos are sensitive and this is especially true of you. You were born to be very much in relationship with others as a role model, supportive partner, or message-bringer. If you are female you may be unusually attractive. If male you may have refined characteristics or be interested in aesthetic pursuits. As an 11, you may very well be in the limelight on a regular basis as a speaker, actor, or minister—or just as an active participant in local community activities. Successful career areas are television, poetry, metaphysics, art, psychology, and spiritual work. You have a tendency to “fall in love” with people and ideas. You may always be on the verge of success—yearning to do something almost impossible. Because of your sensitivity to criticism, lack of confidence may thwart ambition. Elevens frequently work in humble or menial positions while nurturing a strong sense that they are meant for better things. Express your talent. You need lots of sleep.

Born on the 12th

You have one of the most magnetic birth dates in the calendar. You have an exceptional ability to express yourself, be convincing, and persuade others. Your mind goes right to the heart of any issue. You are idealistic, yet logical, and admit it—often brilliant. Easily bored, you tend to tire of people once you have “picked their brains.” Naturally charming, you love to start conversations and flirt. Your eye for colour and design, especially in photography, is outstanding. You love information about what's happening in the world—from movies, magazines, television—and keep up-to-date on who is who. You are something of a celebrity yourself. Dancing is more fun than going to the gym.

Born on the 13th

Being born on the 13th means you will do well in businesses involved with manufacturing, commerce, real estate and building (especially remodelling). You may also be drawn to alternative medicine, nutrition, organic farming, or bodywork. Creative endeavours and plans absorb you for long periods at a time. Sometimes you think you would like to be more social, but find so much satisfaction in your work that you don't always take time to relax. You have an exceptional ability to reform and improve any situation or condition. You are sensitive to any criticism of your motives or methods. When feeling self-righteous, you may speak harshly-expecting the other person to see the validity of your position. Emotions may erupt suddenly because you have a tendency to ignore your feelings.

Born on the 14th

This is a Karmic Number and means you will always have a restless curiosity to see the world-thus insuring a most interesting life! Setbacks will never keep you down for long. However, because you are so prone to investigate everything, you should be aware of your limits, and not promise more than you can reasonably deliver. Because of the Karmic nature of 14 (signifying past life issues still remaining to be resolved), you will meet people throughout your life that you feel you have known before. You are active, vigorous and competitive. Although self-discipline is one of the least appealing virtues to you, you can be disciplined when there is short-term personal goal to be gained. Always looking for excitement, you love to explore and experiment. You are happiest travelling and on vacation, and prefer to be in business for yourself. Anything to do with travel, promotion, meeting the public, performing, politics, and entertainment appeals to you. You want to live, not just exist. You exude independence, sexuality, magnetism, and daring.

Born on the 15th

Your home and family are very important to you. You always manage to take care of yourself and others and share what you have. People naturally turn to you for comfort or advice. You learn a lot from travelling, but prefer your familiar neighbourhood. Whether male or female, your home is where you lavish attention. Your instinct for comfort and harmony make you suited for practical arts such as fashion, landscaping, or interior design. Your natural ability to remain calm in crisis equips you for such careers as an emergency room nurse, police officer, or teacher. You tend to have a wide circle of friends that you keep throughout life. Your family is your first priority, but friends soon become "family" to you. You have a strong creative streak, but are more likely to choose traditional jobs or careers because you love people and like to be of service. Singing or speaking are possible talents; at the very least, you will be noted for a pleasing voice. You think you are independent and bold, but may ultimately be happier close to where you grew up and with people who are successful but unpretentious.

Born on the 16th

Your birth date of 16 is one of the most unusual birthday numbers because it signifies that you are choosing to complete Karmic relationships. Sixteen often brings startling events, which become turning points. You value unusual experiences in life—whether it is collecting Japanese animation classics or going to the stables after work to feed your favourite mare. Your Karmic birthday 16 means that you are destined to meet very unusual people or meet them in unexpected ways. Life is never dull with the 16. Extremely resistant to advice, you learn things the hard way. You are much more prone to live on the edge than to be careful, but you may also be unusually obsessive about certain things like germs or nutrition. Your independent or aloof attitude may complicate your working or marital situation, especially if you also tend to procrastinate (characteristic of the slow-acting 7). A natural researcher and analyst, you gravitate to technical or historical fields. You may uncover facts of great significance or invent something entirely new. Your friends are usually very bright

Born on the 17th

Your birth date of 17 marks you as a dynamic go-getter. You have the daring and courage to undertake large projects and the executive ability to delegate to the right people. Your potential for recognition and financial success is extremely high. Whatever field you choose it has to be at the cutting edge of its industry. Naturally forward thinking, you not only have vision but the determination to accomplish that vision. Both men and women will be attracted to your power. The only reason you may not attain the highest achievement is if you allow arrogance to blind your good judgment. Integrity is the key to long lasting success. An outstanding troubleshooter, your judgment is nearly infallible. Do not get bogged down with details—delegate! You admire scholars and historians and will excel in all aspects of writing, invention, and design. You are rarely vague or indecisive

Born on the 18th

Because of the enormous power of your birthday of 18, you can accomplish very great things when you put your mind to it. You have the drive and ambition of the One and the executive capacity of the Eight. You will have to push yourself a bit to get through the obstacles that will force you to acquire more knowledge and understanding. As a child, you may have displayed an early maturity or unusual wisdom. Taking advice from others is somewhat hard for you. Your own critical powers are good and could be used professionally (especially in drama, art, or music). You were born to work for the good of others. Your choice of livelihood runs the gamut from being a ship's captain to media mogul to Reiki master. History, opera, and tales of incredible exploits inspire you to live larger than life.

Born on the 19th

Take note: this is one of the four Karmic numbers. Nineteen signifies having a specific goal in life that you will always be trying to fulfil (whether or not you consciously know what that mission is). Your nature is complex due to the combination of the One (the desire to excel) and the Nine (the need to be of service or to influence many people). Extremely discerning, intelligent, and perceptive, you may put up an aloof or formal front, using your intellect as a shield until you get to know someone. Verbal sparring and a keen sense of humour—usually a dry wit—characterize your social interactions. Your emotional attachments are deep but you strive to maintain self-control at all times. Your negative attributes are sometimes cynicism, rigidity or xenophobia.

Born on the 20th

You are an extremely conscientious person, friendly, compassionate, and eager to help. You may do well in a small business or private practice, but will probably prefer partners for ambitious projects or those in which you feel less expert. You will be attracted to spiritual subjects and will do quite a bit of searching throughout your life. You would naturally succeed as a therapist, artist, photographer (especially of people and nature), or writer on subjects of interest to women. Methodical and detail-oriented, you might also enjoy playing an instrument, cooking, or bookkeeping. To avoid anxiety, you like to be organized and not rushed into making decisions. Since you thrive on love and encouragement, you may tend to avoid conflicts that would alienate others for fear of being alone.

Born on the 21st

You are very sensitive, creative, and funny. You have a great imagination, and are an excellent storyteller. Your light-hearted manner masks a feeling that you wish people would take you more seriously. However, you have a way with children and older people that is almost magical. You have an abundance of energy and creative abilities which include singing, dancing, or writing music. You are nothing without your circle of cronies, and are always planning the great weekend getaway or party. Generally you are very spontaneous and easy-going unless you are under a deadline. Then you might start avoiding the inevitable by watching TV, sleeping, or partying till you drop. You tend to become infatuated easily (due to seeing people in a rosy-not realistic-light.) You may even be somewhat gullible, but your natural sunny nature helps you overcome any setbacks.

Born on the 22nd

You are destined to work for the universal good rather than for personal ambition. Studying universal spiritual principles should be a large part of your education. Organized, practical, and persevering, you are competent at almost anything you undertake. Your desire to understand patterns prompts you to learn about symbols, psychology, ecological systems, and other kinds of networks. Uniquely visionary, practical and enthusiastic, you are not interested in status or luxury per se. More important to you is making a significant contribution in whatever field you choose and living your life in a meaningful manner. You may have many Aquarian friends or people who are unique, eccentric, or celebrities. You excel at explaining ideas and organizing information for easier understanding.

Born on the 23rd

Being born on the 23rd indicates that you are extremely independent and self-sufficient. You may have a "reputation." A free spirit, you dabble in many fields and pick up an extensive range of information, usually without extensive formal training. Artistic-but unlikely to call yourself an artist, you may be more interested in tattooing than Rembrandt. You always put an interesting spin on events, and turn setbacks to your advantage. Verbal, expressive, witty, and, at times, defiant, you can be petty and critical under stress. Generally, however, you excel in persuading people to your point of view, and are an exceptional promoter. You stay youthful in body and spirit well past middle age, unless you indulge in self-destructive behaviour in early years. You don't fit a mould easily, and will have many different jobs or careers.

Born on the 24th

You have a strong desire for family—perhaps as the matriarch or patriarch of a family business. You will be very unhappy alone or without domestic responsibilities. You easily accumulate wealth for yourself and others and will do well in traditional occupations such as nursing, social work, teaching, accounting, banking, and real estate. Your philosophy, set early in life, is pragmatic and tends not to change. You believe you know “human nature.” You admire creative and spontaneous people and may be inclined to marry such a person. You consider yourself liberal and open-minded, although others may not! Although you abhor showing uncertainty or weakness, you have a deep emotional nature and nurture long-term relationships. In everyday dealings you tend to be careful or cautious (you call it prudent) you enjoy challenging outdoor activities such as white water rafting or vacations in the Alps. Always productive and reliable, most of your plans come to fruition.

Born on the 25th

You have a very strong intuitive ability to tap into knowledge not obtained by book learning. This openness to inner guidance also makes you somewhat more impressionable than more earthy, practical types. Solitude and meditation or just plain hiking in nature helps you stay sane and balance the intensity of your emotions. You may be hard for others to understand. You can be extremely talented in artistic or musical fields and have a great rapport with animals. You may even choose to be a veterinarian. There may be difficult times (especially around ages 27 and 28) when you will find some kind of therapy valuable in assisting your personal growth. There may be a bisexual nature. Do not cut yourself off from friends or family when you are feeling melancholy. Find a stable diet and exercise routine.

Born on the 26th

This equips you for exceptional success in both love and work—the two most important aspects of life according to psychiatrist Sigmund Freud. Twenty-six, of course, can be added together to get the total number 8. Eight is the number for money, power, and credibility. But since your 8 total is made up of the partnership and people number 2 and the family and responsibility number 6, you have a high potential for achieving balance between work and personal life. Even though you tend to rise to positions of authority, your natural fairness and love of harmony prompt you to listen, cooperate and go out of your way to help others. Even though you pride yourself on being “one of the guys” you also strive to keep up appearances and usually like to dress well, have a fine house, and put your children in good schools. You are a demanding, but fair parent, and very generous. While generally you are optimistic and productive, there are times when you just want to be pampered and read books all day. You see yourself as realistic and don’t often look to religious philosophy for answers. You might consider a career in catering, any type of service business, languages and diplomacy, or administrative work in the social sciences. Products and services that provide beauty, comfort, or education are natural endeavours.

Born on the 27th

You are a quiet but keen observer of life. Blessed with an exceptionally sensitive and impressionable nature, you may have musical or artistic ability. Imaginative and naturally curious, you yearn for faraway places and wish you could time travel to other eras. Your wide range of interests may include medieval poetry, Chinese opera, tribal healing practices, or the history of art in New Guinea. Never one to limit yourself to practical choices, you opt for the dramatic—perhaps becoming a foreign correspondent, wildlife photographer, painter, jewellery maker, calligrapher, or antique dealer. You have so many talents and interests, it may take a while to find your true work. However, Life (with a capital L) is more important to you than mere career. Friends are all-important to you. Generous to a fault, you give little thought to reciprocity. To be happy and fulfilled, you need to have an ideal to follow or a dream to bring into reality. You may have a creative project that takes many years to come to fruition. Two of your lessons are learning to love without condition, and to let go of those whose time has come to move on.

Born on the 28th

You demand to live a life of independence and freedom. Although you prefer to be the one in control in a romantic relationship, you are very loving and considerate and accord the same freedom you desire to your mate. A natural ham, you adore being the centre of attention. You cultivate a wide range of friends and usually remain on good terms with acquaintances. However, breaking a promise or acting without integrity could be the cause of painful break-ups. Your mate will have to be a strong person in his/her own right, and you will never settle for less than your ideal. Like all ambitious Ones ($2+8=10=1+0=1$), you don't mind sacrificing personal time to achieve professional goals. You are likely to be successful in any profession, especially teaching, law, engineering, architecture, fine art and design. You have dramatic flair in all you do and will tend to choose a mate who is outstanding in some way. Your biggest weak points are pride, vanity, and thinking that ordinary rules don't apply to you.

Born on the 29th

Being born on the 29th heightens your sensitivity to psychological and spiritual philosophies. Your number 29 also adds up to 11/2 which is called the Master number of Inspiration, prompting you to think deeply about the meaning of life. Because of your mental and perhaps physical sensitivities, you are very impressionable around others, and may pick up their unexpressed feelings. Because of your high-strung system, be sure to get plenty of sleep, exercise (such as yoga or Aikido) and adhere to a simple diet. Even though you love to lose yourself in mentally stimulating endeavours such as reading, writing or painting, you benefit by working in the garden, cooking, sewing, or some other manual craft. Avoid spending too much time alone, as it may cause you to become despondent. You prefer a few good friends rather than crowds and parties, but sometimes find yourself in the limelight as an advisor or message-bringer. You may be content to earn a living in occupations such as accounting and waiting tables while pursuing your artistic interests.

Born on the 30th

This indicates strong vitality and self-confidence. Your enthusiasm for life is infectious, and your breadth of information about all kinds of subjects can make you money in many fields. Generally honest and outspoken, you have a flair for having just the right word or fact to win an argument. Your intuition and psychic ability is strong, but you probably wouldn't call it that. You tend to go with the flow without questioning why things happen. With so many creative interests and the ability to express yourself well, you would be an excellent writer, teacher, speaker, lawyer, actor, or musician. If you enjoy public speaking, you would make a wonderful minister or motivational speaker. You are serious and intense about what interests you, but easily bored by routine and mundane conversations. Strongly curious about everything, you love to travel, go to the movies, and socialize-especially when it involves music or dancing. You are more likely to surf the Internet than read thick books.

Born on the 31st

You derive great satisfaction from working with your hands and may be a chef, carpenter, landscaper, sculptor or painter. Highly ambitious, you are committed to working as long as it takes to make your goals a reality. By nature traditional in philosophy, you may be surprisingly unconventional in your life style. You love your friends and enjoy cooking (or providing) dinner for big celebrations. Conversation about art, architecture, politics, and community endeavours are lifeblood to you. While your home is your castle, you also love to travel. You tend to work extremely long hours and are fiercely protective of your mate and family. Imaginative and almost overly active, you love to talk about yourself and your plans and expect others to be just as interested in them as you are!
